UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Aug. 1.—"THE TRIBUNE is a tremendous success and has gained a place as one of the best newspapers in the State."

Chester H. Rowell, editor of the Fresno Republican, a successful newspaper, and one of the most experienced members of the profession in California, gave the foregoing as his opinion of the leading newspaper in Cakland, in lecturing to his class in journalism yesterday afternoon.

Rowell made his opinion of the standing and success of THE TRIBUNE all the more forcible by mixing with it criticism which showed only that there is a difference of opinion among editors as to the ideal way of getting dut a newspaper. For instance, Rowell indicated that he would not publish a woman's page such as the one that has proved so successful in THE TRIBUNE.

Rowell then compared THE TRIBUNE with the other newspapers published in Oakland.

'The Enquirer's lack of success," declared Rowell, "is due to lack of energy and enterprise, essentials which have enabled THE TRIBUNE to go ahead and become a great newspaper. A certain vogue which the Enquirer had for a time was due to the work of a former editor, Mr. Nye, who is now State Controller."

Rowell mentioned the great skill with which THE TRIBUNE handles the news, as well as the enterprise shown in obtaining

Judge Brown Praise District Attorney Don se and His Assistant, W. H. L. Hynes

During the trial of the case of the People vs. Dalton I was very strongly impressed with the extremely efficient services that were being rendered to the county of Alameda by the District Attended trict Attorney's office. I think that the people of this county ought to be congratulated, indeed, upon having a District Attorney like Mr. Donahue, and Mr. Donahue and the people also are to be congratulated upon the fact that he has such an able assistant as Mr. Hynes. I have never seen a case presented in court where I saw public officers do their duty to a larger or fuller extent than you gentlemen have done in that case.

After the testimony came in court showing the weeks of work that you have done in connection with the case, I felt, in the matter of the proceedings on sentence here a few days ago, that I had been remiss in my duty as a public official in not mentioning the fact. I think that you gentlemen, in the way that case was handled, have set a precedent in this county, and in this State for cases of that kind. The work that was done in the case before the case came to trial was really work that had to be done in order to secure a conviction. You did that, did it carefully and efficiently, as shown by the conviction that was obtained in that case. It shows to the people of this county that there is not going to be allowed any corruption in office in this county. I am satisfied that the people of this county and the people of this State recognize the ability, the efficency, the honesty and sincerity of the work that is being done in the District Attorney's office.

It may be a little out of the ordinary and it is out of the ordinary. As I have said, I have never had occasion since I have been upon the bench to commend public officials before. I feel, however, that the work done in this case was of such an extraordinary nature, so well done that I would be remiss in my duty did I not publicly so state.—Remarks made from the bench this morning by Superior Judge Everett J. "The withholding of this money," says the report, 'in each particular case, constitutes embezziement, and the making of false affidavits, in each particular case, bonstitutes perjury, and the said Henry P. Dalton is subject to indictment upon each of these charges. While we were instructed by this court to present all public offenses to this court for indictment, yet, inasmuch as the said Henry P. Dalton has repaid these moneys, and it now serving an eight-year sentence in the State prison at San Quentin, we do not feel warranted in putting the county to the expense of returning further indictments upon these charges, believing that under the circumstances our full report to this court is sufficient compliance with our duty."

Following is the complete report submitted by the grand jury:

REPORT OF GRAND JURY.

REPORT OF GRAND JURY.

To the Honorable, the Superior Court of the State of California, in and for the County of Alameda.

The Grand Jury of the County of Alameda herewith submits the following partial report and recommendation:

When impaneled this court instructed us that it was our duty, among other things, to investigate the affairs of the various county officers and to report thereon. In accordance with this instruction we have investigated the affairs of the assessor's office for the period from January 1, 1911, to July 14, 1911, during which period Henry P. Dalton was the assessor of Alameda county. Said investigation, covering these six months only, has revealed the following condition:

The law demands that the assessor must, on the first Monday of each month, pay into the county treasury all moneys collected by him during the preceding month.

In the month of March, 1911, Henry P. Dalton, as assessor, collected the sum of $10.102.28 for personal propreally work that had to be done in order to secure a conviction. You gentlemen fully realize that if that work was not done, if those plans were not made, you could not secure a conviction. You did that, did it carefully and efficiently, as shown by the conviction that was obtained in that case. It shows to the people of this county that there is not going to be allowed any corruption in office in this county.

"I AM SATISFIED THAT THE PEOPLE OF THIS COUNTY, AND THE PEOPLE OF THIS STATE, RECOGNIZE THE ABILITY, THE FFFICIENCY, THE HONESTY, AND SINCERTY OF THE WORK THAT IS BEING DONE IN THE DISTRICT ATTORNEY'S OFFICE.

It may be a little out of the ordinary—and it is out of the ordinary—and it work done in this case was of such an extraordinary nature, so well done that I would be remiss in my duty

This affidavit was sworn to before S. V. Stevens, deputy county auditor, and said Henry P. Dalton paid into the county treasury only $4,545.47. The books and records of the assessor's office show that the said assessor, Henry P. Dalton, had, in fact, collected during the month of March, as personal property and poll taxes, the sum of $10,102.28; that said sum had been delivered to the said Henry P. Dalton, and that at the time of the delivery of said sum to said Henry P. Dalton, his cashier, A. N. Aiken, had rendered him a written report showing that said sum had been collected.

MADE FALSE AFFIDAVIT.

We further find that at the time said Henry P. Dalton, as such assessor, paid said sum of $4,545.47 into the county treasury of Alameda county, and at the time of making said affidavit above referred to, the said Henry P. Dalton personally withheld from the County of Alameda and retained in his own personal possession the sum of $5,556.81, and that in order to retain said sum he made said false affidavit.

We further find that during the raise affidavit.

We further find that during the month of April, 1911, Henry P. Dalton, as assessor of Alameda county, collected as personal property and poll taxes, in the County of Alameda, the sum of $34,634.16.

RETAINED THE MONEY.

That on the 9th day of May, 1911, the said Henry P. Dalton, as assessor of Alameda county, in making his monthly settlement, as required by law, again made affidavit before S. V. Stevens, deputy county auditor of the County of Alameda, that the total amount of money due the County of Alameda for moneys collected by him, at such assessor, during the month of April, 1911, as personal property and poll taxes was $9,676.44.

That on May 1, 1911, A. N. Aiken, the cashier in the assessor's office, rendered a written report to Mr. Dalton, showing the collections of personal property and poll taxes, during the month of April by the assessor's office, were $34,634.16, and said sum was delivered to said Henry P. Dalton personally as such assessor.

We find, therefore, that at the time of the making of said affidavit on the 5th day of May, 1911, and at the time of the payment by said Henry, P. Dalton of said sum of $9,676.44 into the treasury of Alameda county, the said Henry P. Dalton had in his possession the total sum collected, to-wit, $34,634.16, and that he personally of the making of said affidavit on the atth day of May, 1911, and at the time of the payment by said Henry P. Dalton had in his possession the total sum collected, to-wit, 331,634.16, and that he personally withheld the sum of $24,957.72, and that in order to retain said sum of $24,957.72 he again made a false af-

SHORTAGE OF $30,514.53.

We further find that on May 9, 1911 said Henry P. Dalton was short in his account with Alameda county in the sum of $50,514.53, but that after his arrest and indictment he made good said shortage by repaying said sum to the County of Alameda on June 5, 1911.

MERCY IS SHOWN.

The withholding of this money in each particular case constitutes embezzlement, and the making of said false affidavits in each particular case, constitutes perfury, and the said Henry P. Dalton is subject to indictment upon each of these charges. While we were instructed by this court to present all public offenses to this court by indictment, yet inasmuch as the present all public offenses to this court by indictment, yet inasmuch as the said Henry P. Dalton has repaid these moneys, and is now serving an eight-year sentence in the state prison at San Quentin, we do not feel warranted in putting the county to the expense of returning further indictments upon these charges, believing that under the circumstances our full report to this court is a sufficient compliance with our duty. our duty.

RECOMMENDATIONS MADE.

We beg leave, however, to make the following recommendations: While the statute does not expressly require the auditor to check up the books of the assessor from month to month, still we believe that it should be made the duty of the auditor to monthly check up the books of the county assessor. up the books of the county assessor, and all other county officers, receiving moneyc for and on behalf of the county, prior to the delivery to them of their safary warrants, and we recommend that this be done so that the opening of their safary warrants.

mend that this be done so that the opportunity for the commission of similar offenses in any office may not be permitted to exist.

Further, we find from our investigation that it would be a very easy matter for any of the deputy assessors, whose duty it is to collect money, te embezzle large sums thereof. We would therefore further recommend that the assessor, or other proper authority, require of each deputy so collecting money, a bond in an amount sufficient to cover any and all moneys that may be collected by such deputy assessor, and thus fully safeguard the county. the county. Respectfully submitted, F. W. SEARBY

CHARGE NOT DISMISSED.

Following the grand jury proceedings Judge Brown called up the case that is pending against Dalton and in which he is charged with asking for and agreeing to accept a bribe of $25,000 from the Spring Valley Water Company in consideration of his reducing: assessments of the corporation's property in Alameda county by one-half. It was down on the calander to be set for trial, and District Attorney Donahue said that his office contemplated for a dismissal of the action, in view of the fact that Dalton was in the penitentiary, but asked that it be continued for about six months to be finally disposed of at that time.

said the continuance was agreeable to the defense, whereupon Judge Brown set the matter over until January 2, 1912.

Access for Residents in Annexed District.

SAN LEANDRO, Aug. 1. — The local chamber of commerce has gone on record in favor of opening a street from Estudillo avenue to the Foothill boulevard, that residents of the annexed district may have better access to San Leandro. It has long been felt that such a thoroughtare was needed though no definite action was taken.

A resolution, calling upon the city fathers to take the necessary steps for the construction of the proposed road, was presented by W. J. Locke at last meeting of the chamber. The document was forwarded to the trustees and will be acted upon at an early date.

Locke pointed out hat under an act recently passed by the legislature the thoroughfare could be put through with but little expense to the property owners along the proposed route. The plan includes the construction of a bridge across San Leandro creek.

SOLANO FRUIT OUTLOOK POINTS TO BIG PROFITS Hustlers for Next Convention

VALLEJO, August 1.—Taken as a whole, the present fruit season in Solano county bids fair to be the most profitable enjoyed by ranchers in a number of years. The crop is not as large as it has been in the past, but the excellent quality of the fruit more than makes up for the loss in quantity, and the prices received in the eastern markets are much higher than they have been in the last two years. Local canneries now pay as much as $60 a ton for apricots and peaches, as against $30 paid last season.

Attorney Charles Wesley Reed, representing the complainants, made a statement in which he told of the marner in which he was retained by forty graduates and former pupils of the institution to conduct the case for them during the inquiry. Reed stated that he met Instructor C'Donnell in this city on commencement day last spring when the instructor

These were words spoken last night he Frederick Kahn of the well-known dry goods firm of Kahn Brothers who, with his nephew, Albert Elkus, has returned from a trip to Ireland. Kahn is in the colorment of excellent health and shows in spirits and appearance that the trip occasioned him the pleasure and information which were its inspiring motives.

VISIT EMERALD ISLE.

The journeying of the gentlemen was confined to the Emerald Isle, for the eason that, on frequent former trips Kahn has visited other coun tries and returned home without follow-ing the precedent of many others who aim to see Europe during one restless and exhausting tour, within a circumscribed period.

As a consequence, Kahn is full of interesting and practical information of the places, things and people he has met with on the other side of the water and consideration of them is even now, at all times, a pleasure. Next year, when he goes abroad again, he will take in, in his journeyings, still another land full of romance and history and the choice may probably fall upon Scotland.

Kahn and Elkus sailed from New York on June 21 last, on the steamship Lusi-tanka, which has the record for its state-ly and speedy trips across the Atlantic. They reached Fishguard, Wales, on June 26 and went thence to Rosslare harbor Ireland, where they landed the next day. The passage was made Juring the night but the accommodations, the best to be procured, did not insure a sleepful night. and, as a consequence, the next time Kain steps on the shore of Ireland, it will be from an Atlantic liner stopping at a port of call.

"Our stay at Cork was of a very pleas-"Our stay at Cork was of a very pleas-ant character. There were many fea-tures of interest there but, of course, the greatest of these was Blarney Cas-tle," said Kahn today. "There is no necessity of referring in detail to the celebrated stone in the castle which so many persons yearly run the risk of ser-lous injury in attempting to idss, for the reason that it has been described a countless number of times. To get the countless number of times. To us, the castle appealed in a very effective manner by reason of its massive architecture and the imposing strength of a fortress of the past. It is simple in style. There is also a rugged grandeur in it that is impressive. It is suggestive of thought even in its ruin, and it is not, by any means, the only ruin which is to be found throughout Ireland as a result of the devastation by which is to be found throughout Ireland as a result of the devastation by Oliver Cromwell. Indeed, wherever one littion of that leader. "Glengariff, on Bantry bay, is a strategic naval point and nothing has ever ap-peared more beautiful to me than that place in its little cove, the latter interspersed with attractive little islands from amld which arises a round-tower pecu-liar to Ireland, the origin and purpose of which have been the study of savants for years. Here rest may be found in several large hotels. Here, also, is a several large hotels. Here, also, is a school for the manufacture of Irish laces and the sturdy remains of a bridge which Cromwell erected for the purpose of in-vasion and demolished two days after it had served its purpose.

"We visited Kenmare, Parnasilla, on the way to the lakes of Killarney. On the way we passed through a most beautiful rolling country. Wherever we went we found everything green. We often we found everything green. We often remarked that there was little wonder that Ireland bore the name of the 'Emerald Isle,' and agreed that it certainly de ural beauty of the landscape is occasioned by all shades of green forming a pleasant contrast.

"I must say that the lakes of Killar-ney were, to me, a little disappointing. This is probably due to the fact that I had anticipated more on the score of natural loveliness than realization could sat-isfy. At the same time they are certainly beautiful.

ANCIENT AND MODERN.

"Muckross Abbey, on the shore of the sargest of the lakes of Killarney, caused us to reflect upon the ideas which it suggested: It is a majestic, although a crumbling, ruin. It was once a gem of toothic architecture. Ivy clings to the ruin. Within are the remnants of the cloisters of centuries ago, while without are the antique places of burial with quaint modern graves, the latter linking the Ireland of a more modern day with the Ireland of the past.

"At the convent of the Sisters of Mercy, near at hand, we experienced a pleasant visit and there we saw some of the finest of the laces which are made in Ireland.

"We had intended to stay in Dublin two days, but we remained five instead. Dublin is architecturally beautiful. There are hosts of things there of historical interest as well as worthy the considera-tion of those who desire to study the business and political affairs of an interesting people. Among these, Trinity college, the churches, the museums and Phoenix Park were places we visited, but the principal enjoyment was trying to fall into the Irish metropolitan civilization, the temperament of which we found ton, the temperament of which we bound proposition has also been scheduled so pleasant, the kindheartedness, the for the coming Sunday at Sulsun. occasioned the dispute in Dublin of which Mayor Farrell was the center. The may-or had assumed his official position under strong home rule obligations and one of his pledges was that he would never officially receive royalty. But he sud-denly changed his position and requested the corporation of Dublin formally to extend a welcome to the king, declaring, at the same time, that in the event they did not do so he would himself deliver an address of welcome to their majestles. His announced reason for making this request of the corporation was that such an address would not compromise the principles of the home rule party for home government, and that in his address he would give expression to that fact. He also stated that peaceful and conciliatory measures would have the effect of bringing around the desired consummation of the home rule aspirants. "There was displeasure expressed when the mayor gave expression to those senti-ments and immediately it was charged that Farrell's hopes of being knighted by the king had changed his purpose in fa-vor of extending an address of welcome to their majesties.

"This was followed by an assault by mob on the hall of the municipality which had the effect of deterring the mayor from carrying out his purpose of welcoming the king and queen. As a consequence there was no address of welcome extended to royalty, but, although unofficial, there could not have been hoped for a more hearty greeting than

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 1 .- When George Behm, uncle of Ortic McManigal the confessed dynamiter, was brought into court today to answer to a citation in contempt, Clarence S. Elehm was summoned to show cause why he should not be punished for con-

Co-operation of the city with the sacieties promoting a big celebration on the shores of Lake Merritt to commemorate the discovery of America, which is to be held Columbus day, October 12, was assured by a resolution passed by the city council this mornin giromising financial aid to the committee in charge.
A resolution declaring it the sense of the council that $2000 should be appropriated out of the city treasury for this purpose was passed by three votes of the council, Commissioner Harry Anderson and A. C. Turner favoring cutting the appropriation to $1000.
A committee, consisting of Hugh Hogan, G. Chiglieri and Senator John W.
Stetson waited upon the council this morning to urge the necessity of such an appropriation.

BIG CELEBRATION,

BIG CELEBRATION.

Senator Stetson explained that it is the intention to make the landing of Columbus a celebration of considerable moment, the assistance of 56 sceletes in 12 counties of California having been promised. This will be the only celobration of its kind around the bay and it is estimated that over 20,000 visitors will attend the affair.

Hugh Hogan, who is a member of the board of freeholders which framed the new city charter, explained that the section providing for a public entertainment fund had been placed in the charter to meet just such a case as this. He stated that last year $1500 had been expended upon the fete, but that with the appropriation by the city, $5000 would be raised this year by those who will be raised this year by those who will be raised this year by those who will be raised the city.

The appropriation of $2000 was opposed by Councilmen Anderson and Turner on the ground of economy, and a suggestion made to reduce the sum to $1000. The resolution for the larger sum was passed by the votes of Councilmen Forrest and Baccus and Mayor Mott, as follows:

"Resolved, That it is the sense of the council that the sum of $2000 be appropriated from the public entertainment fund of the fiscal year 1911-1812 for the celebration to be held October 12, 1911, said sum to be expended for reception and entertainment of the public guests and for the purpose of generally advertising the city."

The War Department has issued instructions to all division commanders to impress upon the field officers and captains that it is their imperative duty to quality in horsemanship in all respects.

In the case of any officer who is incapable of thoroughly qualifying him-self, the fact will be noted on the "ef-ficiency reports," which are made to the War Department as indicating the lack of an essential for the mount-ed service. This may ultimately lead to his retirement. The endeavor to improve horsemanship is coincident with the department's effort to procure a better grade of mounts for the army.

ASKS BIG DAMAGES FOR HUSBAND'S DEATH

Suit for $25,000 damages from Golderg, Bowen & Co. and the Ransome-Crummey Company for the death of George V. Slaughter, was instituted today in the Superior Court by the latter's widow, Rhoda R. Slaughter, administrator of her deceased husband's estate.

According to the complaint, while Slaughter was riding a bicycle he was struck by a wagon belonging to Goldberg, Bowen & Co. and thrown to the pavement in front of a heavy wagon of the Ransome-Crummey Company which passed over his body. The in-juries Slaughter sustained, it is al-leged, resulted in his death.

Brutal treatment of his 10-year-old on, Arthur, is charged against Elijah Whitaker, a wealthy real estate dealer of this city, in a warrant issued for his arrest this morning on the complaint of Patrolman E. The Delegate From Alaska.

Delegate Wickersham of Alaska appears to be the type of reformer that has been particularly noisy of late, and particularly at tractive to the muckraking magazines. He sought legal employment by the Guggenheims at $15,000 a year and did not get it. Since then he has developed a bitter hostility for the Guggenheims and every enterprise in which they are interested.

Delegate Wickersham denounces every person who disagrees with him as a crook and charges the Federal officiary of Alaska with all sorts of criminal practices. He accuses Attorney-General Wickersham of protecting land-grabbers from prosecution and conniving at frauds against the government. In several cases his accusations are flatly disproved by the records.

The judiciary committee of the House has declined to recommend an investigation of Delegate Wickersham's accusation that Attorney-General Wickersham has shielded and protected Alaska syndicate criminals. As the majority of the committee are Democrats who would gladly seize an opportunity to smirch the Taft adaninistration, provided there was any reasonable evidence at hand to substantiate charges of misdoing, the refusal to take up the Alaskan delegate's charge is significant. It indicates the delegate's standing with his colleagues in Congress and the weight that is attached to his charges.

Alaska's interests are not likely to be furthered to any considerable extent so long as they are represented by a man of Wickersham's stamp. He is a turbulent trouble-maker with an ax to grind, reckless in making charges and indifferent to the consequences of his conduct. Ever since Wickersham has been in Washington he has been complaining about patronage and proclaiming that Alaska is infested by gangs of wealthy criminals who are trying to grab everything of value in the Territory. He says the Guggenheims are the government in Alaska, a statement which carries the broad implication that the Federal officials in Alaska are subservient to the Guggenheims and derelict in their duty to the government. He directly accuses the Department of Justice of aiding theft and corruption and of throwing its protecting mantle around criminals.

If these charges be true Attorney-General Wickersham ought to be impeached and driven from office in disgrace. If they are false the Alaskan delegate is a malignant libeler unworthy of trust and belief. The House Judiciary Committee has refused to take up his charges after hearing them and examining the proofs presented to substantiate them. The delegate naturally has no influence at the White House and he is evidently discredited in Congress. Plainly he has put himself in a position where he can do the people of [Alaska no good. He came to Washington to raise hell, according to his own statement, and he has raised it to the extent of his ability. Beyond that he has accomplished nothing. Nor can he accomplish anything. Yet Alaska is sorely in need of legislation that will permit her resources to be developed. But a swashbuckler of the Wickersham type will never secure the needed legislation or promote any legitimate development.

Former Governor Vardaman, who is a candidate for Senator in Mississippi, is campaigning in an ox-cart. The vehicle symbolizes tine rider and the order of statesmanship to which he belongs. Vardaman belongs to the ox-cart era. He is as primitive as a wooden shoe, and naturally regards the ox-cart as the highest development of civilization. "Niggers" and corporations are his pet aversions; the believes in disfranchising the former and abolishing the latter. Yet he has quite a large following in Mississippi, and his mode of conveyance is hailed as indicative of his statesmanship and his sympathy with "the common people." Certainly the people he represents are mighty common from some points of view.

Politics In Canada.

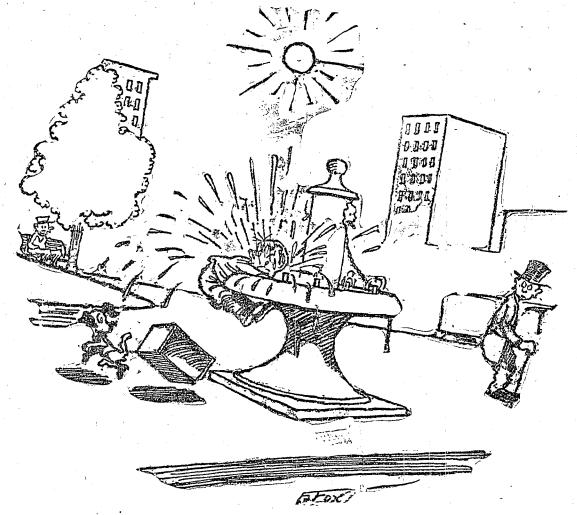

Clifford Sifton, who has just issued an address to the Canadian people opposing reciprocity with the United States, is a deserter from the Liberal to the Conservative party. During Laurier's first administration Sifton was Minister of the Interior and was severely criticized for his methods in dealing with the Northwest Territory. When the Dominion cabinet was reorganized at the beginning of Laurier's second administration Sifton was left out of the ministry, whereupon he abandoned the Liberals and joined the Conservatives. He has been fighting Laurier and the Liberals ever since. In view of his past history and performances Sifton's opposition is not likely tective equipment. to have much influence with the Canadian voters.

Only in Ontario is opposition to the reciprocity agreement strongly developed. It is very popular in Quebec, the Maritime Provinces, British Columbia and Manitoba, and the agreement will probably be ratified in all the provinces save Ontario, which has always shown a disposition to array itself against the party in control of Dominion affairs. When the Conservatives under Sir John A. Macdonald were in power Ontario was Liberal. After Laurier's second administration Ontario changed from Liberal to Conservative and is as resolutely against Liberal policies now as it enthusiastically favored them formerly.

As a rule Ontario, which is Scotch and English and Protestant. is opposed to everything Quebec, which is French and Catholic, favors. But Nova Scotia and New Brunswick have always wanted closer commercial relations with the United States, and in this instance public sentiment in the northwestern provinces appears to be in hearty accord with public sentiment in the Maritime Provinces. Originally British Columbia and the Maritime Provinces were as staunchly Conservative as Ontario was Liberal, but they have changed to the Liberal column as Ontario has gone over to the Conservatives.

The announcement that the Oakland Traction Company will soon install an express train service between Oakland and Richmond is gratifying news to the public on this side of the bay. Rapid transit is essential to modern municipal development, and speedy and direct intercommunication will enormously promote the growth of the several towns clustered on the eastern shore of San Francisco bay. The express service recently installed between Oakland and Hayward has proved very popular, and its success has doubtless decided the Traction managers to install a similar service between Oakland and Richmond. This service will take in Emeryville and Berkeley en route and thus be of general advantage to this entire urban district.

The Robber Row In Europe.

Three of the most powerful, the most advanced and most highly civilized nations of Europe are seriously talking about going to war over the possession of an insignificant port in Northwestern Africa to which neither has any right or equitable claim. Agadir, the port in question, belongs to Morocco, but Germany has seized it because she wants a foothold in Northern Africa and because Morocco is powerless to prevent the seizure. France, which has already grabbed the greater portion of North Africa, objects to the seizure because it will establish another Franco-German frontier and England objects because the possession of Agadir will permit Germany to threaten Britain's sea trade routes to South Africa and South America. France and England are protesting against Germany's robbing Morocco, not because it is robbery, but because it interferes with their own schemes of robbery. England, France, Germany, Italy and Belgium have all grabbed vast areas in Africa with no other title than the law of might, and the threat of war which is now clouding the European horizon is merely a dispute between robbers who are talking of rights as if any of them has a right that is higher than the bandit's claim to loot. Yet all the nations involved in this serdid wrangle over the plunder of helpless and semi-barbarous neighbors pretend to love peace and to be inspired by the virtues and precepts of Christianity. They are threatening to convulse the civilized world with war because of a selfish rivalry for trade and conquest. The freebooters have divided up nearly all of Africa and now they are quarreling over who shall have the remainder. But Americans have little cause to complain since they benevolently assimi-

WOMAN'S RIGHTS

A World without man is an Eden laid waste

A World without man is a bare desert place A World without man who would God dethrone? A World without man, "No home, sweet home."

A World without woman would be equally bare This Earth was made for each to share God created both, the two, to be A part of each other till eternity.

Woman, man's equal, has been proven true When it came to the test she's shown she's true blue "Men are mere incidents;" some Suffragists says, If this is their platform will they win the day?

Woman has suffered, waited and toiled for years, And rocked the cradle and swallowed her tears, She has patiently toiled without a position She surely today deserves recognition.

Now for equal rights she asks to share If it comes to the test she can do and dare; She has born our heroes, she has kept her place, She is the mother of every man of the human race.

A woman's sphere is truly her home, But this is the issue and this alone; Why she wants the ballot to make secure, The laws which affect it, which she must endure. JULIA STEVENSON.

Honoring the Oregon

No greater tribute could be paid to a splendid achievement of the past than to give to the battleship Oregon the privilege of leading the naval pagent of all nations through the Panama Canal in 1915, proceeding to San Francisco to take part in the Panama-Pactic Transition Pacific Exposition

The Oregon has a place in the heart of the nation that is not held by any other battleship. The whole world was stirred by its race from San Francisco around the Horn to take part in the battle of Santiago. To place the Oregon at the head of the triumphant world procession of dreadnoughts that will make their way through the Panama Canal in 1915 would be to emphasize the state of the same than th phasize sharply the great importance of the canal to the United States

President Taft has said that the President Taft has said that the opening of the canal will virtually double the efficiency of the navy. The Oregon, at the head of the naval pagent, will illustrate the difference between 1898 and 1915. There will be mighty ships in that pageant—ships from England, France, Germany, Italy, Japan, Russia, and all the other naval powers. The greatest dreadnoughts of modern times will be there. The United States alone will have ten new battleships added between now and 1915. Mighty though they may be, not one will ever show they may be, not one will ever show more valiant heart than the Oregon more valiant heart than the Oregon in that thrilling race around the Horn.

The Oregon, in 1915, may be last among the ships, estimated by the modern test, but she will be the first in the hearts of the people of the United States, and she should be given the honor of leading the fleets of the world.—Washington Post.

Reflections on Depew

Mr. Depew, who has twinkled out as humorist, and who retired, considerably damaged, as a statesman, made an effort to recover lost territory at the Fourth of July banquet in Paris.

After calling attention to the Britisl veneration of King George, the principle that the king can do no wrong, he made the statement that every newspaper i England praises the king, while in Amer ica no newspaper would be worth circu lating unless it criticised the President All newspapers in England are not com pletely snobbish, and in America the newspapers of the largest circulation praise or criticise the President as his actions seem to invite.

Then Mr. Denew entered upon condemnation of the usurgent Republicans and their principles and rebuked his countrymen for pretending to have ideas and principles of their own.

Which doubtless explains why Mr. Denew is representing himself in Paris today intead of representing the state of New York in the national senate.—New York American.

BILLY VAN TALKS ABOUT VAUDEVILLE AND WEATHER

"Be Seated," Says He, Out of Force of Habit

Then He Chews and Talks, Avers, Asserts Remarks; Also Chews Again

(Sy LEO LEVY.)

Van felt as much like working between shows as we did, and we did not at all. In fact, if a hard-hearted city editor hadn't handed us a slip inscribed thus, "B. Van-800 words," we wouldn't have attempted the feat. Working between shows is a task the historians wouldn't have asked of Hercules. We were happy over the prespects (this is sarcasm), but when the aforesaid h.-h. c. e. butters your daily bread, what can a poor man do?

Van, assassin of joy, was choking the life out of a quid of plug cat when we grasped his sooty hand in the dressing room of the Bell theater. We murmured something about being glad to know him and duty compelled him to give the same account of himself.

"Be seated," remarked the minstrel man from force of habit. We sat. He sat.

He sald nothing. So did we. Silence, save for the click of his mol-ers as the plug cut went to its fate.

TWELVE YEARS AGO.

Van finally wrung speech out of his system.

"They gave me a page."

We were getting on great.

"I don't remember what it was all about." "If you did," we managed to observe, "you could talk into a phonograph and save both of us whard night's work." "But I don't."

True, he didn't. "Perhaps you have the page in a scrap ok," we suggested hopefully.

All was lost. We took off our hat (this is where the editorial "we" clashes horribly; by all the rules of grammar we should take off our HATS), deposited the headgear in the only unoccupied spot in the dressing room, the which was our lap, and settled back for the evening.

SOME WILD AUDIENCES.

"You might tell our readers of some wild audiences you have met," we sug-"This is great weather, isn't it?"

"Yes. Do you find an Oakland theater-goer more or less intelligent?"
"I'm 46 years old; started in the business when I was 14 and have been to "Thought you didn't remember anything of what you told the literary holdup man twolve years ago."

By all the rules of interviewing we should make Van romark here, "'Tis a crool thrust, indeed." But we'll stick the facts. He simply went on chewing.

"Vaudeville—" we began. If you have been on a suburban car when it leaves the city limits, or watched the career of Millionbucks' son when he came into his inheritance, or caught a glimpse of THE TRIBUNE staff at work you will appreciate the carees that was turned loss in the parspeed that was turned loose in the narconfines behind the scenes at the

We heard little else but "vaudeville"

Billy Van "on" and B. Von "off" are Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde. Behind the footlights he is so insanely foolish that he'd coax a grin out of a defeated prizefighter. Out of the glare he does only tensible things, such as buying real estate, chasing the elusive dollar, isaving his money and chewing tobacco. Van is so serious in his dressing room that his stage garb feels the effect and appears same.

Van is one of the oldest men in the ministral business. "Tve seen them come and go," he says, meaning the black face stars, ministrel shows and salaries. When he first arrived on the Pacific coast he did his turn on the stage of the old Bush street theater. The last time the public saw him in the

Hero of Santa Rosa Wreck Is Nearly Drowned in Sea

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 1. — Details of a gigantic watersport that nearly engulfed W. H. Henderson, keeper of the lighthouse at Point Arguello, and Emil Brueil, has assistant, were brought to San Francisco yesterday by Commander W. A. Moffett, U. S. N., chief of the lighthouse service here, who returned from a tour of inspection.

Commander Moffett said, that he had sent a recommendation to Washington for the award of a distinguished service medal to Henderson for the bravery he displayed when the steamer Santa Rosa ran aground.

The water spout broke over the Arguello light since the wreck of the Santa Rosa. Henderson and Brueil saw it approaching and made a dash for the mainland. They were overtaken on shore in the deluge of water after its fury had been partially expended and saved their lives by clutching boulders on the roadway.

Commander Moffett learned that

Henderson also displayed a ready sense of organization when he learned of the distress of the steamer by telephone.

He summoned ald among the people of the little town of Lompoc and formed them into a living chain to secure the lines which assured the safety of the Santa Rosa's passengers.

ENJOY YOUR BEAUTY

By LILLIAN RUSSELL

HERE are very few women who know how to enjoy themselves, and that is one of the principal reasons why men retain their semblance of youth longer—they seldom take themselves seriously.

But women are different. If a woman only knew it and went about it in the right way, she would get a lot of enjoyment out of her own self. Women enjoy a few other women, some men, and occasionally a condition-and there they stop. Men, on the contrary, enjoy all women, most men, and every condition, and add to all these a supreme enjoyment of them-

They take such obvious pleasure in being men. One seldom ever hears a man say he wishes he had been born a woman, and yet if the truth were known (and, being known, were told), there is much more enjoyment in being a woman than a man.

Most women are too sensitive about the judgment of others to really enjoy themselves. There is nothing more appreciated in this world than beauty, and yet there are few lovely women who are strong enough to brave conventional opinion and thoroughly enjoy their own pulchritude.

So often we hear: "Yes, she is beautiful and so unconscious of it."

Will some one kindly state why virtue should be hypocritical?

It is not in denying to yourself that you

The same theories apply to accomplishments. A woman seldom does anything worth while unless she is sure she could do it and thoroughly enjoyed her own methods and her own self in so doing. (I presume this is the reason why so thany women fail to reduce their flesh.)

The only difference between capability and conceit is that capability means self-knowledge and self-respect, and conceit is lack of real knowledge of one's self and little respect for the other fellow.

The conceited woman, even if she be beautiful, cannot enjoy herself much because she is usually looking for the impression she makes upon other people. The capable woman, however, while she may enjoy the approbation of others, is too busy carrying out her own ideas to worry much about the other woman's superficial opinions.

Remember-Enjoy men, little children, other women, and all the enjoyable things in this wonderfully beautiful world, but do not stop there; be sure to enjoy yourself.

HAMILTON, Ont., Aug. 1.—Eight lives were lost and many were injured in a fire which partly destroyed one of the main buildings of the insane asylum on the side of the mountain southwest of the city early today. There were 800 patients in the building when the fire was discovered and it was only a well-organized fire-fighting corps and a splendid coolness and bravery among the nurses and attendants that averted further loss of life.

The Dead

The complete list of the dead includes: CHARLES BILLYARD, Dunville. ALFRED NAY, St. Catherines. JOHN HEFFERMAN, Arthur. THOMAS EVANS, Elora. EDWARD SODKE, Welland. GEORGE W. STORY, Hockley. ALBERT BOWTHER, Dundalk.

There are three other buildings within the asylum grounds. The nain building, where the fire occurred, was a four-story brick structure 200 feet in length and about 70 feet wide, with wings at either end. The 250 woman patients occupied quarters in the west wing. The remainder of the building was taken up with men's wards and contained some of the most desperate cases in the asylum.

Maniacs Rush Into Flames

The women were moved without serious difficulty to the adjoin-Expected This Year ing buildings. The situation among the men was more serious. The fire broke out on the fourth floor in what is known as Section D, R. S. Kltchener presided and W. J. where the violent insane are kept. Most of the men, guarded by Keating acted as secretary. The city brigade, which had been summoned, was then toiling up the steep roadway to the asylum grounds.

It was nearly 2 o'clock before the first of their apparatus was brought into play. The firemen ran scaling ladders to the third and fourth floor windows, where it was believed some of the unfortunates had fled. They found it difficult work to break down the iron.

At dawn a systematic checking up of the inmates was begun. The blazing roof of the asylum attracted immediate attention in the vicinity. The cry, "the asylum is on fire" ran through the streets and hundreds flocked up the hill: The screams of the inmates of the bearing will cost me in the four buildings drowned every other sound.

The free list bill, the second of the big tariff revision measures that followed Canadian reciprocity over from the Democratic house, met final action in the senate early. insurgent Republicans talked and figured on political advantage, emerging for a vote immediately at the close of the routine business.

The bill, despite its importance and the general interest it has awakened along with other tariff revision legislation, has had but sparse reference on its merits as a bill on the floor of the senate, but its provisions have frequently figured incidentally to other pending measures.

Its life dates back to April 12, when Democratic Leader Underwood introduced it in the house. The ways and means committee several days later reported the bill favorably and the house, on May 8, pased it by a vote of 236 to 109. Then the finance committee of the senate took it, gave hearings on it for five days and on June 22 Chairman Penrose of that committee reported the bill adversely to the senate.

The next day Senator Bailey of Texas offered the bill as an amendment to the reciprocity bill and this amendment was rejected on July 12. On July 14 the bill was fixed for a final vote today, and it became the unfinished business of the senate on July 27 though little advantage was taken of the opportunity to debate the bill. The free list bill would have placed on the free list agricultural implements, cotton bagging, cotton ties, implements, cotton bagging, cotton ties, leather, boots and shoes, fence wire, leather, boots and shoes, meats, cereals, flour, bread timber, lumber, sewing machines, salt and other articles. The exemptions are designed to take effect the day following the approval of the measure.

NARROW FAILURE.

The adoption of the compromise measure came after a narrow failure of Democratic efforts to pass the bill in its original form. But for the fact that Senator Balley of Texas refused to support the bill in the shape it had passed the House the measure would have been passed unchanged by the Senate. As it was, it was beaten by a tie vote, 89 to 39, Senator Balley being the only Democrat to vote against it.

Scientist Declares Boric and Benzoic Acids and Formalin Are Harmful.

"A preservative," said Dr. William C. Morgan in his general science course yeserday, "is something which will kill bacteria, will be a poison for these lower orteria, will be a poison for these lower or-ganisms, but which will not kill the higher brganisms which eat the food preserved.
"Formalin is the best preservative. It will keep milk from one year's end to an-other. But it is very likely to kill the people who drink the milk. Until this was proved and the use of formalin made il-legal, at least one hundred hables died on account of formalin in milk during every not spell in Eastern cities. "Boric acid, borax and benzole acid are all good preservatives and seem to be absolutely harmless, when taken in mod-erate quantities. But preserved toods taken every day for any number of days taken every day for any number of days have a very bad effect upon men. Take the beef sent to our soldiers when they were in Cuba; its preservation was really a triumph of art. The animal to be killed was hit over the bead to render it unconscious, the jugular vein was cut, some blood was extracted, some boric acid at the blood temperature inserted so that it blood was extracted, some boric acid at the blood temperature inserted, so that it was distributed through the entire system by the heart action of the animal. But the men lost weight on this beef.

"This is the reason: Anything which prevents food from decomposing while outside the body, prevents it from being digested within the body. Therefore one gets little nourishment from preserved loods.

TOO MUCH BAD WINE IN STATE, SAYS BIOLETTI

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Aug.

1. — Eetter results can be achieved by California wine makers, according to Professor Frederick T. Blodetti of the university. Of the need of standardizing the product he says in a bulleting the product he says in a bulleting. In the general effort of furmers, especially of fruit growers, to standardize and improve the quality of their products, the wine makers are not conspictous. Some of our, wine is good, some of it very good, but much of it is indifferent, and too large a portion, frankly, bad.

There is no reason, except lack of skillful wine reaking, why any California wine should be bad. There is probably no grape growing country where the grapes as a whole are more generally suitable for making yood, sound wine. They are seldom injured by diseases or inclement weather and their commonest fault, that of excess of sugar, is the most sasily avoided and remedled. Whattever other reasons there may be for the present prejudice against California wines, the fact that we produce so much unecessarily inferior wine is outle sufficient, to account for it. Though equally inferior wine is produced in all other wine making countries most of it is consumed in the country itself.

Much of our poorest wine is sent out of the State and does serious injustice to our good wines. All our wine eught to be good, and it depends principally on the wine making ers to make it so.

From Tables.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Aug. 1.— A sin of omission is charged to the authorities who purchased the painfully new tables in the new Doe library. They falled to supply tables with foot rests, and students who insist upon case for the feet while the head is being agitated hy study have a grievance.

It was expressed in the Summer School News this morning as follows by a tired youth:

I am a lazy 'stude,' but' a 'stude' withal. The library is the only legitimate study hall in the university. I like to study there. Fact is, the days I have loiled in the 'old' library are precious memories of hours well spent.

"To sit before the long table in a low backed chair, with one's feet — pardon me, I digress— and my feet have brought me back to the object for which I started this letter. One can study when one's feet are comfortably placed upon a foot vest! But it is a physical impossibility to even attempt to study with one's feet slipping around beneath the table in a vain effort to get 'fixed."

"And in the face of 3060 pair of slipping feet, there is not a single, solltary foot rest on any of those beautiful new tables which are destined to supply the students of next semester with a place for study. Can anything be done to alleviate the sufferings to which all lazy 'studes' are exposed through what can only be attributed to a sad lack of actual experience in the art of studying on the part of the purchasers of those beautiful, new, comfortless, library tables? Though a lazy 'stude,' I am a 'stude' withal and I'd do anything to help my suffering brothern. But suggest a blan, Editor, and I will head the list of lazy 'studes' who will troop to aid you in this mighty cause." "A 'STUDE' WITHAL."

"These spots are, in fact, merely whirlpools of gases which, because of cooling

At the present time we are passing through the minimum sun-spot period. The recent heat wave which swept the east cannot be traced to the sun-spots, for there has been only the occasional one all summer, lasting as long as a day. Speaking of the Tigers, the members of Hogan's herd saw the game from rundstand perches, and if they did not weep for joy when the Angels triumphed, it is because weeping is not one of the things that go with their particular line of business.

No prettier triple ever left the end of a bat than the clean three-base wallon poled by Howard in the last half of the seventh inning. His hit, one that landed three feet inside the right field foul line and nosed its way to the fence, came at a time when the bases were full and runs needed by the Angels.

UNIQUE POINT OF LAW IS DECIDED

Judge May Not Make Order in Suit in Which He Is Interested.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 1.—By a decision of the Supreme Court, announced vesterday, that a judge has no right to make an order in a suit in which he him self is interested, the rights of minor heirs to a share in 300 acres of valuable land near Oroville were conserved and the decision of the Superior Court of Eute decision of the Superior Court of Butter county affirmed. The case is one in which W. P. Hammon, the dredger magnate, is interested with the respondent, Judge John C. Gray, superior judge in that county, and is one of the most important places of litigation in land in Northern Callfornia, dating back nearly a quarter of a century. The dredging interests won their title contest except as to the minor heirs, but will have to fight another suit now pending before they can claim undis-puted ownership.

The children are the minors of Mrs.

The major case, which will settle the 1tle to the whole of the 300 acres, is to SANTA MONICA, Cal., Aug. 1.—By a vote of the city council bathing suits that heretofore inadequately garbed the forms of men lolling on the sands have been banished from this beach. Beginning today men must wear skirts on their suir costumes.

The short trunks must be lengthened into trouserettes reaching down to the lines, and there must be sleeves to cover muscular arms. Furthermore persons in such costumes must bathe when they come down to the beach, not merely disport themselves on the sands.

The new order was put through by a large number of irate citizens. There were no complaints about the costumes won by women bathers, although they also are ordered to bathe and not poss when on the meach. "Spooning parties" likewise are banned. MISSING MECHANIC IS

FOUND UNDER WATER

VALLEJO, Aug. 1. — The body of Daniel Brosnahan, formerly employed as a mechanic at the Mare Island Navy Yard, was found in Lake Chabot, about three miles from here, yesterday. Brosnahan, who was 35 years old, had been missing since last Wednesday, and it was thought he had gone to San Francisco. The body was found with the shoes off, standing upright in the water. It is believed that Brosnahan committed suicide, as the shoes were on the shore near by.

The reaction has not only been a natural one but has been so limited as to definitely demonstrate the inherent strength of the market in the face of ban news and selling. Unless the government report on corn and spring wheat is much morse than now expected it may be the signal for a good move beginning in the stock and an improvement in business.

Business men and financial inherests generally report uncertainty on the outcome of the cereal crope this year and with that uncertainty removed and the brilliant cotton prospects some of the brakes will be taken off. The Morocan scarce is beginning to die out.

No change of position.

Consider good stocks a purchase at this level.

BREAKS BLUE LAW

Upton Sinclair Arrested for Results of Competition in Playing Tennis in Delaware on Sunday.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 1.—Upton Sinclair is in the toils, a victim of the blue laws of Delaware.

With anarchists to right of him. Social ists to the left of him, single taxers in front of him and Esperantists and vegetarians behind and around him, into the Henry George community of Arden, Del., today strode Constable Green of Wilmington, Del. He bore warrants sworn out by the aggrieved Arden anarchist, George Brown, and arrested eleven persons, in-cluding the author of "The Jungle." Sinclair is charged with violating laws which prohibit persons from engaging in sports or games on the Sabbath day. He is charged with playing tennis on July 30. Nine of the others are charged with playng baseball and the tenth with having soft drinke

The laws under which the warrants are issued—said to have been passed in 1794 -provide that any persons guilty of the bove-named charges shall pay a fine of 4 and costs, or serve a sentence of wenty-four hours at bard labor.

CAUSES SENSATION.

The arrests caused a sensation in the little hotbed of political and economic theory. Brown, the anarchist responsible himself was arrested at the instance of the Arden Club a week ago and served five days in the workhouse because he refused to pay a fine when charged with listurbing the single tax meetings. Sinclair considered his arrest absurd and vare's statutes of the blue laws. It is his intention to start a crusade that will result in the arrest of every member of every fashionable club in which golf, tennis or croquet is played on Sunday.

In this way, he says, the public will be aroused to the absurdity of a law that permits "such outrageous arrests," and vill vote to make them dead letters.
